ESPI Current Report

No. 36/2024 • 01/07/2024

Sale of UPD Printing Module to Partner in Hong Kong

XTPL S.A., a joint stock company with its registered office in Wrocław

Legal basis:
Art. 17 sec. 1 MAR – Confidential Information

The Management Board of XTPL S.A. [the "Issuer," the "Company," "XTPL"] announces that on July 1, 2024, it confirmed the acceptance of an order for the delivery of a UPD printing module. The direct ordering party is a company based in Hong Kong [the "Partner"], which will supply the printing module to a client in mainland China [the "End Client"].

The Partner is an entity engaged in the development and distribution of advanced devices for prototyping processes using additive techniques, product testing in 3D technology, and the production of high-efficiency parts for the aerospace, energy, and other industries. Based on the UPD printing module provided by XTPL S.A., the End Client will construct a device for prototyping and conducting R&D processes for applications in modern microelectronics and printed electronics. These devices are intended for clients in China.

The revenues obtained from the execution of the current device order will have a positive impact on the financial results of XTPL S.A. achieved in 2024.

The Issuer's Management Board deemed the sale of the UPD printing module to a significant market as confidential information, as its execution may significantly impact the Issuer's future revenue situation, the popularization of the Company's technological solutions, and the perspective of the Issuer by investors. For the above-mentioned reasons, the information provided in this current report, in the opinion of the Issuer's Management Board, meets the criteria of confidential information within the meaning of Article 7(1) of MAR.

Jacek Olszański
Management Board Member